NINE HARNESS HORSE STALLIONS DESIGNATED FOR KWPN STALLION SHOW IN 'S-HERTOGENBOSCH

In early January, the first viewing of the harness horse stallions took place at De Zilfia's Hoeve in Houten. It was a very atmospheric event where the jury was able to refer eight three-year-old stallions and a seven-year-old to the second viewing. Eleven stallions were also declared star.

The Zilfia's Hoeve in Houten was a wonderful stage for the KWPN Stallion Show for harness horse stallions. The audience also found their way to Houten, the program went exactly on time and there was a lot of atmosphere.

Little Street

In six groups, 30 stallions appeared in the track, all of which were first judged in the morning section on the street that had been laid out in the hall. The jury was formed by stallion approval committee chairman Lammert Tel, Bauke de Boer, Thomas van der Weiden and inspector of harness horses Viggon van Beest. After the street was removed from the hall, all stallions returned to the jury and nine of them received an invitation for the second viewing that takes place on February 4 in Den Bosch. Lammert Tel: "It concerns a group of medium quality stallions where we would have liked to see more outliers at the designated stallions. Point for improvement remains in the rising of the forehead, but the use of the hind leg also continues to require attention. With the stick size it is going in the right direction." A large number of already approved stallions were also presented, both in hand and in harness and under the saddle, bringing a lot of atmosphere into the track with their mighty performance.

Lanto HBC

Lanto HBC and Cizandro were the greatest sires of the day, with Lanto presenting his first year. Of his six sons presented, three were invited and three were declared ster. The seven-year-old Latino (Dylano from Freydessa keur IBOP rig from Enigner HBC, breeder E. Kruiswijk from Loenen aan de Vecht) was invited to an initiated presentation after the first presentation and he was also invited for the second viewing. The stallion Latino has 66 victory points. He is also the stallion with the lowest kinship (9.7%). The other stallions are all more than 11% related. A number of stallions must still comply with the PROK approval for the second viewing. Eight stallions were canceled, and these can of course still be presented at the inspection.
